BEAVER ARGUS.

Vol. 40—No. 13, Beaver, Wednesday, March 30, 1864. Established 1818

AN ODE FOR THE TIMES.

The following beautiful and patriotic lines were lately written by Hon. Daniel S. Dickinson, of New York, in answer to a question by a lady "whether he was for peace"!

Am I for peace?—Yes
For the peace which rings out from the cannon's throat,
And the suasion of shot and shell,
Till rebellion's spirit is trampled down
To the depths of its kindred hell.

Or the peace which shall follow the squadron's tramp,
Where the brazen trumpets bray,
And drunk with the fury of storm and strife,
The blood-red chargers neigh.

For the peace which shall wash out the leprous stain,
Of our slavery, foul and grim.
And shall sunder the fetters which creak and clank
On the down-trodden dark man's limb.

I will curse him as a traitor and false of heart
Who would shrink from the conflict now,
And will stamp it with blistering burning brand
On his hideous, Cain-like brow.

Out out of the way! with your spurious peace,
Which would make us rebellion's slaves;
We will rescue our land from the traitorous grasp,
Or cover it over with graves.

Out! out of the way! with your knavish schemes,
You trembling and trading pack!
Crouch away in the dark, like a sneaking hound
That it's master has beaten back.

You would barter the fruit of our fathers's blood,
And sell out the Stripes and the Stars,
To purchase a place with rebellion's votes,
Or escape from rebellion's scars.

By the widow's wail, by the mother's tears,
By the orphans who cry for bread,
By our sons who fell, we will never yield.
Till rebellion's soul is dead!

Another Lincoln Nomination.

While the politicians and journalists of New York are airing their political notions and publishing their personal preference concerning the Presidency, the people seem well pleased with those acts of their representatives. We think it too early to move in this matter. The moment the nominations are made, the contest will be narrowed. Mr. Lincoln, if put in nomination, will be a formidable candidate. Even Ohio seems to be in favor of his re-lection."

A Loyal League has nominated Mr. Lincoln in Texas. He has been renominated in Louisiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri and Maryland, and is now spoken of in this manner even in Virginia. The change must be very radical in the "Old Dominion" that reaches even to results like these. We shall yet see Virginia as lustily laborious for office under the "Rail Splitter," as she ever was under Madison, Monroe or their successors.—Phila. North American.

Jeff Davis' Dream.

One day while sitting in an old fashioned high-backed chair in the parlor of a Hotel at Richmond in May, 1862, enjoying a good pipe and Northern paper, and had just become interested in the latest news, I heard the door of the room open and the footsteps of two persons approaching.—They seemed to be talking confidentially together, and I thought it my duty to make known my presence by some sign, so that I might not hear anything not intended for my ear, but on peering into the room imagine my surprise when I recognized in the occupants, Jeff. Davis and his traitor friend, Toombs of Georgia. I hesitated no longer, but settled myself back in my seat and bent every energy to listen to the conversation, which was carried on in a low tone.

But said Toombs, Mr. Davis, you must not give way to the vagaries of your brain. Come, tell me all about this wonderful dream, and my word for it, you will feel better after the recital. Davis, rising, turned the key in the door, and resuming his seat close by Toombs, gave the following version of the dream that disturbed him. Said he, I had a party of friends to support last night, who prolonged their visit to a late hour, I ate heartily, during the evening and experienced a strange feeling of weariness before retiring. My room you know, is well supplied with large windows, and the night being a splendid one, I lay on my back gazing out on the heavens sparkling as it were with diamonds, and ruminating on the destiny of the Confederacy. How long I continued thus, I know not, but, stealing over my senses, as it appeared to me, instantly came a clearer perception of our cause from the beginning. I thought myself in Washington, in that same room where we all met that night to perfect our plans for the destruction of the Republic. I thought that you were there, Toombs, and Breckinridge, and all the rest, and seemed to live over again the closing scenes which were enacted in Congress, and I was startled from the contemplation by a low, deep, solemn voice close by my pillow, saying "Jefferson Davis—Jefferson Davis!" This was the beginning. I started and looked round to see who it was that spoke in those awful tones, and a cold chill of horror crept over me as I saw a dim, shadowy figure disappear in in the distance. Presently my gaze became fixed, and before me passed the whole Southern land, one State after another. Maryland, heaving and tossing as upon the waves of the ocean, doubting which way to plunge—Virginia had a smiling exterior, but the most deadly, damning hate rankling in her heart; Georgia, crazy with the enormous weight of her sins and her passions, anxious to give them vent in the warm blood of the Northern heart; and so passed they all, one after the other, the last appearing still more hellish than the first.—No sooner were these ended than by some singular change in my position, I imagined myself standing on the top of Bunker Hill, and once more the panorama of the States was presented before me. This time it was of the North But why enter into the details of this vision, for I saw them, in all the beauty of their free system; the children on their way to school, the old people to the noon day prayer meeting, the farmer in the field and the scholar in his study. All this passed rapidly before me, and I felt a fire in my heart, that to my disordered brain threatened to consume me entirely. Again the scene changed and I found myself on a height overlooking Charleston harbor, just at the moment the Star of the West was attempting to carry provisions to the starving garrison within I saw the shot fired, forcing her return, and my heart sunk within me as I heard that deep, solemn voice close beside me say, "Jefferson Davis, Jefferson Davis! this is your preparation for the halter!" Again, I saw another fleet sail to the relief of Sumter—saw the bombardment and its final fall. Once more I imagined myself standing on the summit Bunker Hill, and the whole North lay spread out at my feet, and, my God! the change that had come over this land! Where, from this very spot and extending out to its farthest corner, there was a hurrying to and fro—men shouldering their muskets and all tending to one point, Washington. My eyes fairly blazed from my head, when from the clear blue sky above me, I heard once again the mysterious voice ringing in my ears, "Jefferson Davis, Jefferson Davis! behold the armed legions of the North; see the agony of parting; see the misery and desolation that are to follow. Jefferson Davis, this is your work!" My limbs trembled as I heard these words uttered in those awful tones. My brain reeled, and I feel headlong from my position!

At this point, Jeff. Davis stopped talking and wiped the cold sweat from his brow. Toombs remarked that it was a most wonderful dream—most wonderful, when Jefferson resuming, said, I thought that my fall was not sudden, but that I occupied some months in my descent, and during those months I could see M'Clellan's Anaconda tightening its folds all around the Confederacy, and I felt the certainty that all was lost; that we would be crushed in one common destruction. I saw the capture of Forts Henry and Donelson, and a thrill of horror crept over me as I saw that traitor to the North and South, Floyd, steal away in the darkness of the night, leaving the rest to destruction. Along the lines I saw our armies possessed of a fearful dread, flying from Nashville and Columbus; saw the battles of Pea Ridge, Pittsburg Landing, and all the others, and almost in the twinkling of an eye, the Great Grmy of the Potomac under M'Clellan pressing on to Richmond in all its mighty proportions, appeared before me, and I felt that all was lost. Again the solemn voice rang in my ears, "Jefferson Davis, Jefferson Davis! thy doom is sealed—meet thy reward!" No sooner were these words, than in the distance I heard an unearthly shouting and yelling that grated on my feelings like red hot iron drawn through every portion of my body.—Soon there came in sight what I found to my horror to be a body guard of "imps" sent from the bottomless pit to bring me to judgment. Placing themselves around and under my body, we descended [illegible] landed on a barren rock in the most desolate place possible for you to imagine. Stepping round to one side, it disclosed to my view a wide entrance and all around it grew the most beautiful flowers, and I seemed to hear the most beautiful sound imaginable. One of my guards here spoke to me and said, "Child of mortality follow!" He led the way and I followed closely. It was not long before the beauty of the entrance passed away and all became dark, drear and desolate. Traveling what seemed to me a great distance, we at last came to a great iron, the nails upon which seemed to sparkle and blaze with some intense heat within. Here sat an elderly imp as a doorkeeper, and by his side was a very large book, in which were, written in letters of fire the names of all the damned who have preceded me, "Child of sin," spoke the old man, "who art thou?" and answered, verily, my brain feels did I know not. "Child of sin, tell me by what name thou wert known on the earth?" and I answered, Jefson Davis. No sooner had he utter this name than the imps with a horrible, never-to-be-forgotten screech, rang to a distant corner, and stood staring with gleaming eye-balls, that seemed to loathe me with a most ferocious loathing. I tried to approach them, but they would not permit it, seeming fearful of any contact with me. Horror stricken and amazed at this conduct of those I thought would my friends, I returned to the door which I now found open. No sooner did I entered than the door closed with a heavy sound, and I heard roll and rolling in the distance my doom I was thus introduced to the city of the damned. Onward and onward I found myself traveling, and standing anon, as I passed by some poor writhing in all the misery of those I would turn my eyes to atone look of sympathy, one glance of commiseration for my fate, but in.—All seemed to look upon me as a dreadful horror, and pointing their burnt fingers of scorn as fiend, whispered to each other. All is disgraced! Hell is disgraced! Hurrying faster on, I at last found myself before an open door, having printed overheard in letters of fire words, "Enter and receive thy doom!" I entered, and there in the midst of a large apartment was raised a throne of living fire and upon it sat most awful being I ever beheld. His head was a crown of living coils, and round his neck and coil his bosom was the deadly rattlesnake. I had but a short time to look, when, in a voice of thunder, he said to me, "Who art thou?" And through the long arches through which I had passed came the answer, "Jefferson Davis, Jefferson Davis! Hell is disgraced—cast him out!" Transfixed with horror, the Devil seemed to gaze upon me, and in a voice of awful depth and hardness, said to me, "Jefferson Davis, once upon a time, I who now sit here, Jailor of the damned, ambitious to be something greater than the greatest, rebelled, and was cast forth, and this sentence was passed upon me,—to sink down to hell and have dominion over all the iniquity of the world until a greater than I should appear, when I should be released and my dominion be given to him. Jefferson Davis, long I have waited, long have I tempted, but in vain, until to-day you appear before me loaded down with a crime that even I shudder as I see you. Jefferson Davis," said he, rising, "take my seat and crown." As he uttered those awful words, my blood seemed to freeze in my veins and the most horrid wail of agony rose from the myriad of the damned, and with a shout I awoke, trembling in every limb, a cold perspiration all over me and broad daylight streaming in through my windows. The scenes seemed so real and my doom so prophetic, that it preys upon me like a canker, and I find myself unable to cast it off.

Davis here ceased speaking and they both rose and unlocking the door, passed out, and as they passed I caught a glimpse of them, and never till the day of my death shall I forget the haggard, careworn faces of those two traitors.

RICHARD.

Crossing The Line.

A colored woman with two children, one dangling from under her arm, and the other grasped by the shoulder, [illegible] neared a picket who had long been watching the little skiff which brought them across the water. It contained two men, a women and her two boys.

"I'm here at last on freedom's shore, ben't I?" asked the woman.

"Yes," said the soldier, "but I'm afraid you'll find it a hard road to travel."

"Shan't have to go back, shall I?" she asked with a startled and affrighted look.

"No," replied the soldier, "you'll never go back to slavery."

"Then no massa owns me but the Lord, and he's a good Massa," said the woman feelingly. "My children is his and mine. They'll not be bought and selled out of my sight, and they'll read and grow up to be men; that's what their fader warn't. He telled time'd come—freedom's day; but the Lord ha' mercy. I had no faith. The Lord is slow concerning his promises. He's sure, though. My ole man said it would come."

"Where is your old man?" asked the picket.

"Don't ax me," she said in a husky voice, while the tears streamed down her cheeks.

The picket directed her to the captain's quarters on a neighboring rise, and clutching anew the two woolly heads with their shining eager faces, she marched on, a freed woman. A few moments before she was a slave, and her two sons were slaves, liable to be driven about by the will of another denied of most of the hopes which inspire you, children, to an humble, useful and happy life.

A line was crossed; she hardly knew when or where, but to reach it, the mother had risked her all. To put her children within its pale, she stretched every nerve. They were there; and the yoke of bondage dropped from their necks, and they were freed.

☞ "So far from believing that slavery must die," says the Richmond Whig, "we have long held the opinion that it is the normal and only humane relation which can sustain towards capital. When this war is over we shall urge that every Yankee who ventures to put foot on Southern soil be made a slave for life, and wear an iron collar as a bandage of inferiority to the African. Slavery will stab itself to death about the time the Yankees learn to tell the truth, and no sooner."

☞ Modesty and talents make a slim capitol on which to make a fore tune.

The Payment of Bounties Legalized.

The following is an abstract copy of an act recently passed by the House of Representatives, relating to the payment of bounties to volunteers, by counties, boroughs, &c. The act is very lengthy, but this contains all the material provisions:

The first section legalizes all bonds, warrants or certificates or indebtedness issued by the Commissioners or Controller of any county, or the corporate authorities of any city or borough or township of the State, for the payment of bounties to volunteers—and makes the issue as valid and binding as if full power had existed for the issues when made.

The second section legalizes and makes valid all payment of bounties to volunteer, by the Commissioners or corporate authorities named in section first, and all loans made by said authorities for such purpose.

The third section authorizes and requires the several corporate authorities designated to execute and complete all agreements made by them for the payment of bounties, or for refunding advancements made for that purpose, on condition that they should be refunded, according to the true intent and meaning of such agreements; and the said authorities are further authorized to borrow money and issue bonds, with or without interest coupons, payably at such time as may be agreed upon, and to levy such taxes as may be necessary to meet the payment of the same.

Section fourth legalizes all assessments heretofore made of taxes for the purpose of paying bounties as aforesaid: provided that no private volunteer soldier or non-commissioned officer, or drafted militia man or conscripted man actually mustered into the service, or honorably discharged therefrom, shall be required to pay any of the taxes assessed in pursuance of this act.

[illegible] plies the provisions of this act authorizing the collection of a relief tax for the families of volunteers, to the families of men who have been drafted or conscripted into the service; legalize all arrangements made by the several counties of the State for the support of such families; and authorizes the Commissioners to borrow money for the purpose of extending the necessary aid and relief.

Section sixth authorizes the Commissioners of any county to borrow sufficient money to pay each volunteer from said county, who enlisted on or after the 17th of October, 1863, or who may hereafter enlist, a sum not exceeding $300; provided, that where city, borough or township authorities have already paid or commenced to raise funds to pay such bounties, they shall have power to borrow such sums as they may require, and if their respective quotas shall have been filled, then they shall be exempt from any tax levied by the county for the payment of bounties.

Section seven provides that no bond shall be less than $100 in amount, and shall not be for a longer period than ten years.

Section eight provided that where a part of the bounty has been paid by any township, city or borough, and the abthorities refuse to pay the remainder, that the difference between the amount paid and the full amount promised (not to exceed $300 to each volunteer) shall be paid by the county authorities, who shall assess and and collect a tax on such defaulting townships, boroughs or cities, in such amounts as may be required to pay the balance due.

Section ninth authorizes the county treasurer to receive the money borrowed by the Commissioners and pay the bounties to the volunteers.

The tenth section provides, that money borrowed by school directors, road commissioners or supervisors of cities, boroughs or townships, shall be paid to a treasurer of their own appointment, who shall give sufficient bonds for the proper payments of the bounties.

Section eleventh provides, that if any soldier entitled to receive a bounty, shall die before receiving the same the money shall be paid to such person or persons as would be entitled to it under the laws of the United States.

Senatorial Classification.

The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial thus classifies the United States Senate:

After three months' daily attendance in the Senatorily jury box (better known as the reporter's gallery,) I have brought in the following verdict I don't know how far the general public will agree with me, but those who disagree are privileged to appeal to a higher court.

The best lawer—Mr Collamer, of Vermont.

The best scholar—Mr. Sumner, of Massachusetts.

The best general debater and practical legislator—Mr. Fessenden, of Maine.

The "keenest" debater—Mr. Trumbull, of Illinois.

The most pleasant speaker to listen to—Mr. Doolittle, of Wisconsin.

The best financier—Mr. Sherman, of Ohio.

The richest man—Mr. Sprague, of Rhode Island.

A very sensible old man—Mr. Wade, of Ohio.

The greatest bore that ever lived—Mr. Davis, of Kentucky.

The Knight of the Sorrowful Nigger—Mr. Lane, of Kansas.

The most violent Copperhead—Mr. Powell, of Kentucky.

The most eloquent Copperhead—Mr. Carlisle, of Virginia.

The most bibulous man in Congress—Mr. Richardson, of Illinois.

The best looking man, when sober—Mr. Saulsbury, of Delaware.

The man who has the least to say—Mr Hendricks, of Indiana.

The man who made a faux pas in issuing a strictly private circular," which soon became public property—Mr. Pomeroy, of Kansas.

The man who comes nearest to being nobody—Mr. Riddle, of Delaware.

Tough Story.—Stephenson, a country shopkeeper, was one day trying to sell Joe a pair of pegged boots—The old man gave the article offered a fair examination, and decided not to purchase.

"Nice boots," said Stephenson.

"Yes, very nice boots," said old Joe, "but I can't afford 'em."

"Why, they are as cheap as any [illegible] only two dollars."

"Yes, only I don't keep any hired man?" asked Stephenson.

"Well, I should want a hired man if I bought them boots," said Joe, his eye twisting up with even a more chemical leer than usual; "the last pair of boots I had pretty near ruined me."

"How was that?" asked Stephenson.

"Why," said Joe, "all the time I wore them boots, I had to take two men along with me, with hammers, one on each side, to nail on the soles every time I lifted my feet."

The storekeeper made no more efforts to sell boots to Joe.

☞ Farmer B—— was sitting in a country church. He had been working hard in the harvest field; hands were scarce and Farmer B—— was dozing. The loud tones of the minister failed to arouse the farmer, until at length the good man closed the lids of the Bible and concluded as follows: "Indeed, my hearers, the harvest is plenteous, and the laborers are few." "Yes," exclaimed Farmer B——, "I've offered two dollors a day for cradlers and can't get them for that."

☞ "Wonder what's de reason dis saw-mill don't go?" asked a country negro who hadn't seen much of the world, addressing his more "high-learnt," village friend.

"Dat succumstance argues easy 'nough" answered the other; "de reason is 'cause dare am not sufficien number of water."

☞ "Are you not alarmed at the approach of the king of terrors?" said a clergyman to an invalid.

"Oh no!" was the reply; "I've been living six and thirty years with the queer of terrors; the king cannot be much worse."

☞ Factory girl at Lewistown, had a silk dress worth thirty five dollars stolen from her last week. Talk about hard times when our factory operatives dress in silk and satins!

☞ A Young Gentleman was fondling his betrothed's hand. "I hope it is not a counterfeit," he said. "The best way to test it is to ring it," was her reply.

☞ If the alphabet were alive, why would you find it difficult to kill it? Because you couldn't put the letter B out of Being."

☞ Why is a newspaper like a tooth brush? D'ye give it up? Because everybody should have one of his own and not borrow his neighbor's.

☞ Are there any madmen among the Arabs? Of course not; they all lead a no-mad ic life.

☞ It is not easy to straighten in the oak the crook that grew in the sapling.

☞ Why are hoops like obstinate men? Because they often stand out about trifles.

Editorial Correspondence.

GIRARD HOUSE, PHILADELPHIA, March 24, 1864.

DEAR ARGUS: We arrived at Harrisburg about 9 a. m., Wednesday, three hours behind time. The cause of the detention was an accident on the Cleveland & Pittsburg railroad, by reason of which we were delayed at Pittsburg awaiting its arrival. We believe it is not usual for the Central Railroad to be so accommodating with other roads; but in this instance there was a power behind the throne greater than the throne. Gen Burnside was expected on the Cleveland train, and we were obliged to await his arrival. The Central road still yields obedience to the mandates of the Government, while they are entirely independent of all lesser powers.

The train was crowded with passengers, most of them bound for the Convention at Philadelphia, and of the copperhead persuasion. The delay provoked any amount of criticism and abuse—of the road, Gen. Burnside, and the Government. They seemed to have a great dislike to Burnside. Why, we are unable to determine, unless it was because of his devotion to the country, and being formerly connected with their party, he did not, like M'Clellan, make its interests his chief study at the expense of principle and patriotism. It is a remarkable fact that there is not a single General now connected with the army, that is a favorite with that party. Gen. Burnside was plainly dressed in citizens' clothes, and manifested a desire to escape the gaze of the passengers. He is one of the finest looking men we ever saw—a nervous, active man, [illegible] eye, and an honest expression of countenance, characteristic of the man.

Arriving in Harrisburg we found the hotels crowded, the city swarming with soldiers and civilians, and the streets, as usual, lined with ten cent shows, and all the imaginable contrivances and modern inventions to divest strangers of their money. We have no love and but little charity for this city and many of its inhabitants. The citizens live and flourish like leeches by attaching themselves to and extorting from the necessities of the unfortunate stranger, who, from necessity, is thrown into their midst. There is a proposition to remove the State Capital to Philadelphia, and we think the sooner the better. Either remove the Capital or drive out the robbers, pawnbrokers and Jews that now infest it.

We visited the Senate and House, and had the pleasure of meeting many old friends and acquaintances in both bodies. Our member, Mr. Henry, was in his place as usual, and attentive to his duties. Speaker Johnson, we are glad to learn, makes an efficient and popular presiding officer. Mr. McCandless, our Senator, was confined to his room from sickness, and consequently we had not the pleasure of meeting him. Speaker Penney, about whose election there was so much difficulty, fills the place with great acceptability to Senators of both parties, and we may add he is one of the purest and ablest men of the State.

Gen. Irwin and Col. Quay were looking well, attentive to their duties, and obliging as ever. We also met our friend Major James Q. Anderson, of the 17th Pa. Cavalry, and we are happy to learn would be speedily restored to his command.

At one p. m., we left for Philadelphia, in company with the great and lesser lights of the so-called Democratic party of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Rather bad company for a loyal man to travel with. We felt about as our soldiers do when they fall into the hands of the rebels—there being no chance to better ourselves we had to be content. We were comforted with the reflection, however, that should Stuart be out on a raid, and chance to meet our train, he would not interfere with or detain us. We were certain of a cordial reception from that quarter.

On arriving in Philadelphia we found the hotels all crowded, but succeeded, finally, in getting a room at the Girard House. This hotel is not surpassed by any other in the city—Our only objection being that it was the headquarters of the "rebs." We succeeded in getting an excellent room on the first floor—from the sky, which, after a long and wearisome march we at length reached. A friend who accompanied us, suggested that we had taken lodgings in the country, although the waiter asserted most positively that we were yet in the city, as the corporation limits extended a few feet higher.

Thursday, March 24th, the great sanhedrim of the rebellion, North of Mason & Dixon's line, composed of the special admirers of His Excellency, Jefferson Davis, Southern Rights and Northern Servitude, Southern Independence and Northern Subjugation, of all those in favor of peace upon any terms, that will insure a united South and a dismembered North, monied aristocracy, and the perpetuation of human slavery, met at 12 M., at National Guard Hall, corner of Race and Sixth streets. Mr. Searight of Fayette was elected temporary President. After some discussion the Convention proceeded to elect a permanent President, and Wm. H. Witte and George P. Sanderson were placed in nomination. The former received ninety-four votes, the latter thirty-one. The result was announced, when James R. Ruth, Attorney General of Washington county, who has all the brains, the business capacity and parliamentary knowledge of the Convention, moved that Wm. H. Witte be considered the choice of the Convention. We were of the impression that the vote had decided that; but the Convention thought otherwise, and they proceeded to vote again. This time Witte was elected without mistake, and Sanderson and Jones appointed to conduct him to the chair. Witte made a speech, or, perhaps we had better say, repeated one made in Richmond, and furnished him for the occasion. But we must close for the present.

March 25th, 1864.—We are unable to quote from the speech of Mr. Wm. H. Witte, as we had intended, to show its treasonable character, owing to the fact that it has not yet been published, being retained by Witte for correction. We read the speeches of many of the prominent traitors of the South in the early days of the rebellion; but for abuse of the Government out-spoken treason and false declara[illegible] the speech of Witte surpasses them all. Like a false hearted, degenerate parricide, and double-dyed traitor, (as he is) he takes pleasure in contemplating the ruin of his country, and longs for its utter desolation—There are many Democrats whom we esteem, and even some traitors that we entertain a kind of respect for; but we are unable to find anything worthy of respect, a single redeeming trait in this man. A traitor, proud of his treason, a sot, a common villifier and black-guard, we loathe and detest him. As a presiding officer he soon convinced all of his total incapacity. We never saw as disorderly a Convention, and the greater part of it was produced by the Chair. The general opinion among the bystanders was that the Chairman was drunk. Whether he was more so than usual, we are unable to say.

After the organization the Convention adjourned until 4 p. m., at which time they assembled and proceeded to the appointment of delegates to the Chicago Convention, Electors and Central Committee. Wm. Montgomery was chosen as Elector for the 24th District; S. B. Wilson, of Beaver, and R. W. Jones, of Greene, Delegates, and Charles Carter member of the Committee. Carter, we believe, now holds that position by the statute of limitation, having been on the Committee since our earliest recollections. There was a contest for the Chairmanship of the State Central Committee, which finally resulted in the selection of Ward over Witte and Hirst. George W. Cass, Wm. Bigler, Asa Packer and M'Grath, were selected as delegates at large.

The Committee on resolutions had a stormy session of four hours, and finally reported that they were unable to agree upon a platform, and must leave its formation to the National Convention. It was understood that the contest was between the Peace faction and the War faction, and a split very nearly occurred, and certainly would had resolutions been reported. There is a slumbering volcano in their midst that will sooner or later break forth, rending the party into many factions. The party now has little harmony of feeling, and compromises will not avail much longer. There are loyal men in the party that cannot and will not yield everything to the secession wing. Different members of the Convention were called upon for speeches. Senator Wallace, of Clearfield, made the first speech, followed by Kerr, Hirst, Witte, M'Calmont, and others.

M'Calmont was formerly Judge of the Venango District, and we supposed had some ability. In this we were greatly mistaken. How he ever became to be selected for Judge we are unable to determine. Neither intelligence, good sense or brains were taken into the account as necessary qualifications, we are very certain.—This is the same man who went out as Colonel of the 10th Reg. Pa. R. C., and resigned when he found there was a probability of a fight. He is now striving in his feeble way to do all the injury he can to the Government. If the truth was known, he never was loyal, only pretending.

The Convention adjourned about ten, p. m.

We had the pleasure of meeting our old friend Jos. R. Stokes, whom it is indeed a pleasure to meet anywhere. He is now a salesman in a wholesale house in the city, and looks remarkably well.

We desire to acknowledge the kindness of Vincent L. Bradford, Esq., brother of our esteemed fellow-citizen, Benj. Rush Bradford. Mr. Bradford, is a lawyer of distinction, now President of the Philadelphia and Trenton Railroad, and a gentleman whose pleasant social manners make him a general favorate.

We will write again from New York for which city we leave to-day.

JUSTICE TO A GALLANT PENNSYLVANIAN.—We have just heard of the vindication of a gallant Pennsylvania soldier, Major James Q. Anderson, who was dismissed from the service on the 24th of February last, on a very trivial charge. What was most singular about the affair was the fact that, at the time of Major Anderson's dismissal, he had just received notice of his promotion as Lieutenant Colonel of his regiment, (the Seventeenth) but before the order for promotion could take effect, this gallant soldier was forced to leave an army in which he had rendered the most valuable service to his country. After a patient investigation of all the facts—and after submitting to every test becoming a man and a soldier, Lieutenant Colonel Anderson has been handsomely vindicated, and was yesterday restored to his rank as Lieutenant-Colonel of the Seventeenth.

—At the time Major Anderson was dismissed, we felt that injustice had been done him, but he had no remedy then, and was compelled to bide his now come—he has been gloriously vindicated, and the service has regained a good man and a gallant soldier. We congratulate him on the result.—Harrisburg Telegraph, 26th inst.

Appointments of the M. E Church.

The Pittsburg Conference of the Methodist Church, recently in session at Barnesville, made the following appointments, in this neighborhood:—Presiding Elder, Allegheny District, I. N. Baird; New Brighton, S. F. Jones; Freedom, J. J. M'Ilyar; Bridgewater, J. D. Knox; Beaver, S. Burt; Enon Valley, R. Cunningham and N. P. Kerr.

Among the Presiding Elders we notice the name of the following clergymen who are very well and favorably known in this vicinity; Blairsville, Rev. T. M'Cleary; Washington, Rev. W. Cox; Steubenville, Rev. D. Dempsey, and Cambridge, Rev. J. Henderson.

Rev. W. B. Watkins, who endeared himself to the people of his charge at New Brighton, and won for himself so much of the public esteem and confidence, goes to the Trinity Church, in the Ninth Ward of Pittsburg.

Rev. J. D. Kincar, well known throughout the Church is appointed to Spring Dale in the Pittsburgh District.

Rev. J. S. Bracken, the respected pastor of the Bridgewater charge is to go to the church at Washington, Pa.

Rev. W. D. Stevens, known to nearly every one in this community, has the important appointment of Coshocton, Ohio.—Star.

WARNING TO BOYS.—Thursday afternoon (17th inst.) George Shook, a son of Mr. Samuel Shook, of New Brighton, was almost instantly killed by an eastward bound train. From the evidence at the inquest it seems he attempted to jump on the cars, and missed his hold and went under, several of the trucks striking him. His right arm was horribly mangled, his neck dislocated, and head much bruised.—He lived but two or three minutes after being taken up.

☞Go to Stokes', New Brighton, for Muslins, Prints, De Laines, Checks, Ginghams, Boots, Shoes and Gaiters. You will always find the best assortment and latest styles. Go, go, go.—You will be fully repaid the trouble of examining his stock.

Reconstruction in Alabama.

No more hopeful signs of the times can be presented than the alacrity, with which the inhabitants of States, which were swept off in the vortex of rebellion, begin to take the necessary steps for re-admission in to the Union. Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, are recent examples, and now we see that Alabama is following the example set by her sister States. On the 12th inst. a large and enthusiastic Union meeting was held at Huntsville, at which Hon. Jere. Clemens, formerly U. S. Senator, addressed the people, and let out a few facts connected with the opening of the rebellion. Speaking of the bombardment of Fort Sumter He spoke as follows:

"In 1861," said Mr. C., "shortly after the Confederacy was put in operation, I was in the City of Montgomery. One day, I stepped into the office of the Secretary of War, Gen. Walker, and found there, engaged in a very excited discussion, Mr. Jefferson Davis, Mr. Memminger, Mr. Benjamin, Mr. Gilchrist a member of our Legislature from Lowndes County, and a number of other prominent gentlemen. They were discussing the propriety of immediately opening fire on Fort Sumter, to which Gen. Walker, the Secretary of War, appeared to be opposed. Mr. Gilchrist said to him: 'Sir, unless you sprinkle blood in the face of the people of Alabama, they will be back in the old Union in less than ten days!' The next day, Gen. Beauregard opened his batteries on Sumter, and Alabama was saved to the Confederacy."

This statement, recollect, is made by a leading United States Senator, from the most intensely Democratic State in the Union, and it shows to what length the leaders of this unholy rebellion were ready to go in order to produce a disruption, Mr. Clemens is now out and out for the Union, and his influence, together with that of thousands of others like him, show conclusively that the moment, the power of the oligarchy is broken in Alabama, she will fly back into the Union a Free State.

Political Movements.

The Democratic Convention of Ohio, was held on the 23d of March. A full State ticket was nominated for the ensuing election. Hon. George E. Pugh and Judge T. W. Bartley were chosen Senatorial Delegates to the National Disunion Convention. It is considered that the action of the Convention is favorable to "little Mac." The Democratic State Convention of this State is also considered to be favorable to M'Clellan. On the other hand so far the Union State Conventions believed to have selected Delegates favorable to the re-nomination of Mr. Lincoln. From present appearances the opposing candidates will be Lincoln and M'Clellan—and Lincoln pretty well ahead in the race.

The returns from the Arkansas election from eleven counties give more votes than the whole number required by the President's Proclamation to replace Arkansas in the Union. There are yet 43 counties to be heard from, which will give fully 5,000 more vote. The new Constitution framed by the late Convention was almost unanimously ratified. Arkansas is thus declared a free State by the voluntary action of her own citizens. Governor Murphy and the whole State ticket is elected. Guerrilla bands made violent threats, notwithstanding which the citizens were enthusiastic their determination to vote the State back into the Union—many going to the polls at the risk of their lives. Hurrah for Arkansas! Who says that we are not making progress? Press forward, friends of Freedom Our cause was never so triumphant as now.

Court Proceedings.

Only few cases were disposed of at last term of Court, owing to the length of time taken up with the Newlake case. In this case the Jury awarded a verdict of $9,922,21 in favor of Noss.

Commonwealth vs. Daniel Isenbra[illegible] Indictment, Larceny. Verdict Guilty.

Commonwealth vs. R. L Higgins. Indictment, Assault and Battery with intent to commit a Rape. Verdict, Not Guilty, but to pay half the cost—the Executrix, Mrs. Jane Meanor, to pay other half.

Commonwealth vs. Joseph Wilson, Indictment, Assault and Battery.—Verdict Not Guilty but to pay half the cost—Thomas Reno, prosecutor to pay other half.

Commonwealth vs. Christopher O'Rourke. Indictment, Larceny. Verdict Guilty.

Commonwealth vs. Same. Indictment Assault. Verdict, Not Guilty, but half the cost—prosecutor, Alexander McMillan, to pay the other half.

The Learned Court will be held on the 1st day of May.

The Court made an order that the criminal business be taken up at 2 o'clock P. M. of that day.

Their cases are to come up at the same.

New States.

The President having signed the enabling acts for the territories of Colorado, Nevada, Nebraska and Idaho, we may soon expect them to be applying for admission into the Union as members of the United States of America. Thus, though this cruel war is desolating a portion of our country, the signs of increasing population and activity are fully as apparent as though we were in profound peace.

The agitation of the question of a new State to be formed of East Tennessee and contiguous portions of Georgia and Alabama, is it is said, likely to be followed by practical action on the part of the people. It is well known that East Tennessee is, in a great measure, separated from the other part of the State by mountains, rendering the intercourse between it and the western and middle portions, difficult. This, even before the breaking out of the rebellion, had led the people to agitate the question of a new State; but the Slave Power in this, as in everything else, hindered the act, fearing the free principle of the citizens of that loyal portion of our country, and thus East Tennessee, like West Virginia, was kept chained down by slaveholders.

The war is, however, curing all that, and we may soon expect to see that fair country re-organized, and with a free Constitution, take its place amongst the sisterhood of loyal States.

MUSICAL CONVENTION.—A Grand Musical Convention will be held in New Castle, commencing on the 4th of April, under the direction of Prof. A. N. Johnson, of Boston, author of a number of works on music. It embraces a course of eighteen lessons of two hours each, and is said to be highly interesting and profitable, affording those who may attend the Convention a practical course of vocal training.—We understand that it is the intention of the Professor to visit our town immediately after the close of the New Castle Convention.

A MESSAGE TO PEACE MEN.—The Richmond Dispatch sends greeting the following message to Northern peace men.

"If, instead of devoting to death our President and military and civil officers, he [Mr. Lincoln] had proposed to make Jeff. Davis his successor, Lee Commander of the Yankee armies, and our domestic institutions not only recognized at home, but re-adopted in the free States, provided the South would once more enter the Yankee Union, there is not a man, woman or child in the Confederacy who would not spit upon the proposition We desire no companionship upon any terms with a nation of robbers and murderers. The miscreants whose atrocities in this war have caused the whole civilized world to shudder, must keep henceforth their distance. They shall not be our masters, and we would not have them for our slaves."

The Quota of Pennsylvania.

An investigation of the official figures discloses the fact that when Pennsylvania is given credit for enlistment in the Regular Army and Marine service and Navy, her quota under the call for 500,000 men will be nearly if not quite full. The statement that the deficiency of Pennsylvania was 74,000 is incorrect; that being the entire number of men due from the State under all the calls, allowing no credit for vetran volunteers and new recruits since January 31st. Gov. Curtin has sent his Military Secretary to Washington to procure an official correction of the misstatement, which has done much to discourage the people and retard recruiting.

☞The Norfolk Regime says the Government has a contract with John Minor Botts to furnish two corps of the Army of the Potomac with wood. The soldiers are cutting and hauling it themselves. He furnishes 2,000 cord a month, at four dollars per cord.

CIRCULAR.

Questions Respecting the Education of Indigent Children made Orphans by war, to be answered by Secretaries of School Boards.

The Governor, in his annual message, urges upon the Legislature the claims of "the poor orphans of our soldiers, who have given or shall give their lives to the country in this crisis," and expresses the opinion, "that their maintenance and education should be provided for by the State." Of the justice of this claim no one for an instant can doubt. The first step toward carrying out this humane suggestion of his Excellency, is to ascertain the number of such children in the State.

This can best be accomplished by the officers of the school boards, in the several counties and cities. It will be an act of benevolence that will result in good to those who have been made widows and orphans by the war. You are, therefore, requested to forward to this Department, answers to the following questions, viz:

1st. What is the number of indigent children in your school district, whose fathers have been killed, or have died in the military or naval service of the United States?

2d. Are there any institutions of learning in your county, that will undertake to provide for the maintenance and education of a number of said orphans, if security be given that all reasonable expenses shall be paid by the State?

3d. If there are any such schools, how many children will each take?

It is highly important that this circular, with the questions answerd, be returned promptly by the fifteenth of April, if possible. This Department cannot too strongly urge upon the officers herein addressed, the necessity of prompt action in this matter. They may thereby bring joy to many a sorrow striken, destitute family.

CHARLES R. COBURN,
Supt. of Common Schools.

A Change of Tone

A year ago the Rebel papers threatened sudden slaughter to all black men who should be found in arms against the Confederacy, to be followed by the hanging of such officers of colored regiments as might survive and fall into their hands. Now, however, they sing quite another tune, and propose that "a negro who will throw down the arms which have been placed in his hands, whenever he has an opportunity, and who comes to our lines for protection, should be received with that humanity which the poor African finds only in the Confederate States. We should let it be known among them that all such so escaping to our lines, will be received with kindness."

Has the battle of Olustee opened their eyes? Add to this the fact that three negroes, captured in the schooner Julia Baker, were not slaughtered, but quietly handed over to their owner, and we may conclude that an important change has come over the Southern mind upon this matter.—Have they begun to learn the "nigger" will fight?

General Grant at the Front.

A Washington dispatch, of the 25th, says: General Grant moved out to the front this morning The expected grand review did not come off. The work of reconstruction will commence at once. General Grant will take up quarters with General Meade for the present. It is asserted by those familiar with the tremendous pressure from Pennsylvania and some other quarters, upon the President, in favor of General Meade's retention in command of the army of the Potomac, that no change in that position will now be made. Others, whose opinion upon such points is good, positively assert that the reorganization of the army will be radical and the changes sweeping.

Latest from Chattanooga.

CINCINNATI, March 28.—N. W. Thomas, a prominent merchant of this city, died yesterday. The Commercial's Chattanooga dispatch says:—The rebels are very strong in our front at Dalton, with three thousand cavalry this side. Deserters report Bishop Polk reinforcing Johnson's army, Longstreet's cavalry, under General Martin, has arrived at Marietta, Ga. Numerous deserters are still coming in; the rebels are moving up their artillery from the rear. Our army is in splendid condition

A dispatch to the Gazette from Fort Smith announces the Army of the Frontier in motion. The supposed destination is Northern Texas.

☞DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT has given universal satisfaction during the fourteen years it has been introduced into the United States. After being tried by millions, it has been proclaimed the pain destroyer of the world. Pain cannot be where this liniment is applied. If used as directed it cannot and never has failed in a single instance. For colds, coughs and influenza, it can't be beat. One 25 cent bottle will cure all the above beside being useful in every family for sudden accidents, such as burns, cuts, scalds, insect stings, &c It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and can be given to the oldest person or youngest child. Price 25 and 50 cents a bottle. Office, 56 Cortland Street, New-York. Sold by all Druggists.

REBEL NEGRO SOLDIERS.—The Richmond papers of the 18th publish an official copy of the recent act of the rebel Congress to employ negro soldiers in the army. The free negroes, and when necessary, male slaves are to be employed in any way for the military defences of the country, except having arms put into their hands. That is deemed an experiment too risky to try at this stage of the rebellion's necessities. They are to recieve rations and pay like soldiers.

The Rebel Raid Into Kentucky.

A dispatch from Cairo of the 28th says: There are reports circulated here this morning that the rebels under General Forrest, attacked Paducah, Ky., fifty miles above here, yesterday and burned part of the town, but as telegraphic communication is cut off no authentic information could be obtained. The steamer Istan, from Nashville, passed Paducah at 5 o'clock this morning, and the steamer Joseph Pearce, which passed two hours later, brings the following account of the affair: General Forrest, with an estimated force of 5,000, captured the place at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, sacked and fired the city. Colonel Hicks commanding the post, occupied the fort below the city, with about 500 men The rebels made four assaults on the fort, and were repulsed each time. Three of our gunboats opened on the city during the occupation by the enemy, much of which was burned, including the Marine railway, the steamer Arizona, and the wharf boat.

About three thousand inhabitants of the city moved across the river upon learning of the approach of the rebels. When the Pearce passed at seven o'clock in the morning, the enemy had left. The people are returning to the city, and fires are breaking out. The amount of public and private property captured is unknown at present, but is supposed to be large. Our loss is twelve killed and forty wounded. Two hundred and fifty three hundered rebels are reported killed, among whom is Gen. Thompson.

Twenty-five houses around the fort were destroyed by our troops, being used as a screen for the rebel sharp shooters. The headquarters and Government storehouses were burned by the enemy.

HAVE NO RIGHTS.—The Mayor and City Counsel of Baltimore paid a complimentary visit to General Lance, the new commander of the Middle Department, last Thursday. The General addressed them and in the course of his remarks said that themselves might ascertain the complexion of his policy, from the enunciament of a single principle which he would utter, viz: That the negro is that a Rebel and a traitor had no political rights."

☞Gov. Bramlette, Hon. Archibald Dixon and A. G. Hodges, Esq., passed through Cincinnati, Tuesday night, en route for Washington. The Cincinnati Gazette, says the delegation, says the Cincinnati Gazette will assure the President that there will be no opposition to the movement of drafting of slaves in Kentucky. We have also the gratifying intelligence that the gentlemen will represent the Guthrie Breckinridge peithead party of Kentucky.

REBEL CRUELTY.—A party of guerrillas in Alabama seized two of our soldiers on the 13th inst., took them to the top of a mountain nearby, and tied them to a tree, where they were kept until about sunset, when they were shot, robbed of everything valuable, and thrown from the summit of the mountain down a precipice sixty feet. One man named Norris miraculously escaped death, which he feigned while being robbed by the murderers, and succeeded in reaching camp.

THE FLORIDA DISASTER.—John Hay, formerly Private Secretary to the President, has returned from the Florida war. The Committee on the Conduct of the War have listened to his proper subject for their inquiry in regard to the battle of Olustee. Mr. Hay exculpates the President from any inteference whatever in the affair.

U. S. INTERNAL REVENUE

ANNUAL TAXES FOR 1864.

The attention of taxpayers is hereby called to the provisions of the United States Excise Law relative to the assessment of annual taxes.

By the sixth section of the act of July 1, 1862, it is made the duty of all persons, partnerships, firms, associations, or corporations, made liable to any annual duty, license, or tax, on or before the first Monday of May in each year, to make a list or return to the Assistant Assessor of the District where located of the amount of annual income, the articles or objects charged with a special tax, and the business or occupation liable to pay any license.

Every person who shall fail to make such return by the day specified will be liable to be assessed by the Assessor according to the best information which he can obtain; and in such case the Assessor is required to add fifty per centum to the amount of the items of such list.

Every person who shall deliver to an Assessor any false or fraudulent list or statement, with intent to evade the valuation or enumeration required by law, is subject to a fine of five hundred dollars; and in such case the list will be made out by the Assessor or Assistant Assessor, and from the valuation and enumeration so made there can be no appeal.

Payment of the annual taxes, except those for licenses, will not be demanded until the thirtieth day of June.

The appropriate blanks on which to make return, and all necessary information, will be furnished by Geo. W. Hamilton Eli Reno, and Wm. R. Trimble, Assistant Assessors for this county, to whom the returns should be delivered on or before the first Monday of May, at their offices, in Beaver, New Brighton and Hookstown respectively.

On the 24th inst., by S. Smith, Esq., Mr. HENRY FINELY, of Brighton tp., to Miss FISH, of Sharon.

DIED—In Darlington, on the 17th inst. KATE, infant daughter of John T. and Julia Courtney, aged nine months and three days.

Ere sin could blight, or sorrow fade
Death kindly came with friendly care,
The opening bud to Heaven conveyed
To bloom forever there.

On the 23rd inst., Mrs. ELIZABETH JANE, wife of Wm. Anderson of this place, aged 32 years.

In Beaver, Jan. 11th, Mrs. MARY A. JONES, in the 58th year of age.

Her maiden name was Wells. She came to this place a number of years ago and for the last ten years had been a widow. She joined the M. E. Church before she was fifteen years of age, and retained her integrity unto death. Her life was consistent with her profession. She enjoyed religion and religious duty. Her sufferings, in her last illness, were severe—but she felt secure.

Her daughters treasure up her expressions of triumph as a rich legacy. I know none whose religious state seemed more satisfactory. God bless the bereaved family. S. BURT.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice. They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, painful menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, fatigue, hysterics, pain in the back and limbs, etc., disturbed sleep, which arise from interruption of nature.

Dr. Cheeseman's Pills

was the commencement of a new era in the treatment of those irregularities and obstructions which have consigned so many to a PREMATURE GRAVE. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular, and whenever an obstruction takes place the general health begins to decline.

Dr. Cheeseman's Pills

are the most effectual remedy known for all complaints peculiar to Females. To all classes they are invaluable, inducing, with certainty, periodical regularity. They are known to thousands, who have used them at different periods, throughout the country, having the sanction of some of the most eminent Physicians in America.

Explicit directions, stating when they should not be used, with each Box—the Price One Dollar per Box, containing from 50 to 60 Pills.

HER SOLDIER'S TRUE FRIEND!
ALWAYS READY.
HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

LONG marches, sore and stiff joints, blistered and inflamed feet, all these the soldier must endure, MOTHERS, REMEMBER THIS, when your sons are grasping their muskets to meet danger, think what relief a pot of this ALL HEALING & COOLING Salves will give to the one you love when far away from home and friends. It hardens and makes tough the feet so that they can endure great fatigue. It soothes and relieves the inflamed and stiffened joints, leaving them supple, strong and vigorous, while for at stands unequalled, removing and preventing every vestige of inflammation and gently drawing the edges together, it quickly and completely heals the most frightly wounds.

SABRE CUTS AND GUNSHOT WOUNDS

WIVES AND SISTERS OF OUR VOLUNTEERS

Yo cannot put into the Knapsack r Husbands and Brothers, a more valuable nor more necessary gift than a supply of this EXTRAORDINARY MILITARY SALVE.

The lonely sentry walking his rounds at night, exposed to drenching rains and chill night air, is often seized the most VIOLENT PAINS, COUGHS and SUFFOCATING HOARSNESS, first symptoms of QUICK CONSUMPTION, but if supplied with HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, all danger is averted, a few Pills taken night and morning, and the ointment briskly rubbed twice a day over the throat and chest will remove the SEVEREST PAINS and stop the most distressing or DANGEROUS COUGH. Therefore we say to the whole army,

SOLDIERS ATTENTION!!

See to your own health, do not trust to the Army supplies although most valuable. These PILLS and OINTMENT have been thoroughly tested, they are the only remedies used in the European Camps and Barracks, for over forty years Doctor Holloway has supplied all the armies in Europe, and during the CRIMEAN CAMPAIGN he established a depot at Balaclava, for the exclusive sale of these GREAT REMEDIES, many a time his special Agent there has sold over a ton in weight of the Ointment in a single day. These terrible and fatal enemies of the Soldier in Camp,

DIARRHEA, DYSENTERY, SCURVY, SORES and SCROFULOUS ERUPTIONS, all disappear like a charm before these PILLS AND OINTMENT, and now while the Cry rings throughout the land,

TO ARMS! TO ARMS!!

Do not let these brave men perish by disease, place in their hands these PRECIOUS REMEDIES, that will enable them to resist the dangerous exposures, the Fevers, the Chills, and the wounds which they cannot avoid, and what is more, cannot frequently get succor in the moment of need, whereas if our brave men have only to put their hands into their Knapsacks and find there a sure remedy for all the casualties of the battle field. How many thousands of lives would thus be saved who would otherwise perish before relief could be obtained.

TO PHYSICIANS & DRUGGISTS.

THE undersigned would inform Physicians and Druggists that, owing to an increasing demand, he is now prepared to manufacture on a larger scale than heretofore all articles of the Pharmacopœia. These will be of the strength and quality as dispensed in the Prescription Department of my store, and will be found superior in strength to most in market. I guarantee them to be of the proper strength and purity.

Some preparations offered are new, but will be made officinal in the new Pharmacopœia soon to be issued, and will be found to be valuable remedies.

Any information as regards their strength, uses and qualities will be sent to those desiring it.

I would advise Physicins who have been disappointed in the effect of any remedy, to try those of my manufacture.

They include—
Compound Extract of Colocynth,
Fluid Extracts of Dandelion, Buchu, Ergot, Gentian, Lipulin, Valerian, Wild Cherry Bark, and others,
Citrate of Iron and Citrate of Iron and Quinine very soluble,
Wine of Iron and Wine of Iron and Bark agreeable; chalybeates.
Syrup of the Hypophosphites.
Cerate of the Extract of Cantharides; a more reliable preparation than the common Cerate.
Oxalate of Cerium; useful in obstinate vomiting,
Elixir of Valerianate of Ammonia; a valuable remedy for nervous or sick headache, where a nervous stimulant and antacid is indicated,
Solution of Bi-meconate of Morphia; same strength as Laudanum and more agreeable in its effects.
Pyro-phosphate of Iron; soluble.
These, together with all rare and fine chemicals and other medicinal articles, furnished in any quantities.

I am prepared to make chemical examinations of Ores, Drugs, Oils, Waters, &c.

CRITTENDEN'S PHILADELPHIA COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,
N. E. corner of 7th & Chestnut St.,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

THIS Institution, which was established in 1841, and is now consequently in its eighteenth year of its existence, numbers among its graduates, hundreds of the most successful Merchants and Business Men of our Country.

The object of the Institution is solely to afford young men facilities for thorough preparation for business.

The branches taught are, Book-keeping, as applicable to the various departments of trade; Penmanship, both plain and ornamental; Commercial Law, mathematics, Navigation, Civil Engineering, Drawing, Phonography, and Modern Languages.

The system of Instruction is peculiar; no classes or set lessons are made use of, but each student is taught individually, so that he may commence at any time, and attend at whatever hours are most convenient.

Catalogues are issued annually after the 15th of April, containing names of the students for the year, and full particulars of terms, &c., and may be obtained at any time by addressing the Principal.

In extensive accommodations, wide-spread reputation, and the lengthy experience of the Principal, this Institution offers facilities superior to any other in the country, for young men wishing to prepare for business, and to obtain at the same time a DIPLOMA, which will prove a recommendation for them to any Mercantile House.

NEW BRIGHTON RETREAT.

AN ASYLUM FOR THE RECEPTION, CURE AND TREATMENT OF MENTAL ALIENATION OR DISORDER

And Other
Nervous and Chronic Diseases.
EXCLUSIVELY FOR FEMALES.

THIS Institution is now open for the reception, care, and treatment of the independent class of patients who are laboring under mental derangement, or other nervous and chronic disease. We make special mention of nervous and chronic diseases, from the fact that seven tenths of the female patients that are committed to our public Asylums, to be treated for disordered minds, are reduced to that lamentable condition through previous physical disorder. By a well timed and judicious treatment of chronic and nervous diseases, all physical disorders, in the majority of cases may be removed; and thus the mind, having suffered through the medium of the body will when free from the exciting physical cause, throw off the shackles that has bound it to worse than midnight darkness, and reason will, once more, resume its sway, clothed in all its primitive beauty and wonted excellence. Hence the necessity of all those, who are laboring under the predisposing or exciting causes, calculated in the end to impair the mind to resort to an early and judicious course of remedial agents.

The Institution is a large brick building with a stone basement—four stories high and well ventilated. It is situated on an elevated table land which commands a view of entire town—adjacent hills—groves and neighboring streams; all of which are calculated to produce favorable impressions upon the disordered mind.

The Institution is complete in all of its appointments. Having been tastefully fitted up at great expense, in order that it may meet the approbation and views of the most fastidious.

The water closets and bathing apparatus have been gotten up upon the most approved modern scientific principles. The department embraces not only the ordinary baths but, also, the medicated, warm air and ascending and descending douche for the more effectual and successful treatment of cutaneous and other scrofulous diseases.

We beg leave to say to all those who may be disposed to commit the interests of a dear wife, sister or daughter, to our charge—may be assured that no means will be spared or efforts wanting on our part to ameliorate their condition or to effect a restoration to their accustomed health and vigor of mind.

For further particulars send for a circular. All communications should be addressed to.

FRIENDS AND RELATIVES OF THE BRAVE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS, HOLLOWAY'S PILLS And Ointment.

ALL WHO have Friends and Relatives in the Army or Navy, should take especial care that they be amply supplied with those Pills and Ointment; and where the brave Soldiers and Sailors have neglected to provide themselves with them, no better present can be sent them by their friends. They have been proved to be the Soldier's never-failing friend in the hour of need.

COUGHS AND COLDS AFFECTING TROOPS

Will be speedily removed and effectually cured by using these admirable medicines, and by paying proper attention to the Directions which are attached to each Pot or Box.

SICK HEADACHES AND WANT OF APPETITE INCIDENTAL TO SOLDIERS.

These feelings which so sadden us, usually arise from trouble or annoyances, obstructed perspiration, or eating and drinking whatever is unwholesome, thus disturbing the healthful action of the liver and stomach. These organs must be relieved, if you desire to be well. The Pills, taking according to the printed instructions, will quickly a produce a healthy action in both liver and stomach, and as a natural consequence a clear head and good appetite.

WEAKNESS OR DEBILITY INDUCED BY OVER FATIGUE,

Will soon disappear by the use of these invaluable Pills, and the Soldier will quickly acquire additional strength. Never let the bowels be either confined or unduly acted upon. It may seem strange that Holloway's Pills should be recommended for Dysentery and Flux, many persons supposing that they would increase the relaxation. This is a great mistake, for these Pills will correct the liver and stomach and thus remove all the acrid humors from the system. This medicine will give tone and vigor to the whole organic system however deranged, while health and strength follow as a matter of course. Nothing will stop the relaxation of the Bowels so sure as this famous medicine.

VOLUNTEERS ATTENTION! INDISCRETIONS OF YOUTH.

Sores and Ulcers, Blotchings and Swellings, can with certainty be radically cured if the Pills are taken night and morning, and the ointment be freely used as stated in the printed instructions. If treated in any other manner they dry up in one part to break out in another. Whereas this Ointment will remove the humors from the system and leave the Patient a vigorous and healthy man. It will require a little perseverance in bad cases to insure a lasting cure.

FOR WOUNDS EITHER OCCASIONED BY THE BAYONET, OR SABRE OR THE BULLET, SORES OR BRUISES,

To which every Soldier and Sailor are liable there are no medicines so safe, sure and convenient as Holloway's Pills and ointment. The poor wounded and almost dying sufferer might have his wounds dressed immediately, if he would only provide himself with this matchless Ointment, which should be thrust into the wound and smeared all around it, then covered with a piece of linen from his knapsack, and compressed with a handkerchief. Taking night and morning 6 or 8 Pills, to cool the system and prevent inflamation.

Every Soldier's knapsack and Seaman's chest should be provided with these valuable Remedies.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernable as a water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

 Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines, throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

GERMANTOWN TELEGRAPH.

A Family and an Agricultural Journal,

DEVOTED TO

CHOICE LITERATURE,

INCLUDING

Poetry, Novelcetts, Tales,

AND MORAL AND ENTERTAINING READING GENERALLY.

In the Literary Department we shall present the choicest varieties within the reach of our extended means. The Novelettes, Tales, Poetry, &c., shall be supplied from the best and highest sources, and be equal to anything to be found in any journal or magazine.

Agriculture and Horticulture,

EMBRACING

Farming, Gardening, Fruit-Raising, &c.

In all their branches, as conducted on the latest and most approved system.

Our labors in this department for over thirty years, have met the cordial approbation of the public. Our purpose has been to furnish useful and reliable information upon these very important branches of industry, and to protect them so far as within our power against the false doctrines, and selfish purposes of the many empires and sensation-adventurers by which the Farmer is incessantly assailed. This portion of the Germantown Telegraph will alone be worth the whole price of subscription, as every Farmer and Gardener, who has a proper conception of his calling, will readily admit.

NEWS DEPARTMENT.

The same industry, care, and discrimination, in gathering and preparing the Stirring Events of the Day, expressly for this paper, which hitherto has been one of its marked features and given so universal satisfaction, will be continued with redoubled efforts to meet the increasing demands of the public. The labor required in this department is never fully appreciated by the reader. It would be impossible to present, the condensed and carefully made-up form in which it appears, a corrected mass of all the most interesting news of the week, without involving much physical labor, tact and judgment.

We annex the cash terms, to which we beg leave to call attention of all who think of subscribing for a newspaper:

Advance Cash Terms.

One copy, one year, $2; one copy, three years, $5,00; three copies, one year, $5,00; Five Copies, One Year, $8,00; Ten Copies, One Year, $15,00; Twenty Copies, One Year, $28,00.

☞ Subscription not paid within the year, $2,50.

☞ A Club of five subscribers, at $8, will entitle the person getting it up to a copy for six months; a Club of ten or more, to a copy for one year. All Club subscriptions stopped at the end of the time paid for, unless re-ordered.

☞ No order will receive attention unless accomplished with the cash.

☞ Specimen numbers sent to applicants.

"VANITY FAIR."

"This is the first really clever comic and satirical journal we have had in America—and really clever it is. It is both sharp and good-tempered, and not afraid to say that its soul is its own—which shows that it has a soul. Our readers will be glad to know where they can find native fun that has something better in it than mere patois."—Atlantic Monthly.

"This paper is excellent. . . . . Remarkable for originality."—N. Y. Traveller.

"VANITY FAIR is conducted by a vivacious, witty and intelligent corps of journalists."—Litchfield (Conn.) Enquirer.

"Will wield as potent an influence as that of the London Punch."—Boston Traveller.

"Whosoever finds himself laughing at the wit of VANITY FAIR, and does not return a quid pro quo, is fit for treason, and spoils."—N. Y. Grayon.

SPECIAL NOTICE

The very marked and flattering success which has thus far attended the publication of "VANITY FAIR,"

ARE DR. HURD'S PREPARATIONS GOOD

The best evidences that they are is, that their firmest friends and best patrons are those who have used them longest. Dr. Wm. B. Hurd is an eminent Dentist of Brooklyn, Treasurer of the New York State Dentists' Association, and these preparations have been used in his private practice for years, and no leading citizen of Brooklyn or Williamsburg questions their excellence, while eminent Dentists of New York recommend them as "the best known to the profession. Without the aid of advertising, dealers have sold them by the gross.
